

2009 Monthly Statistics for ACCT Medical Services

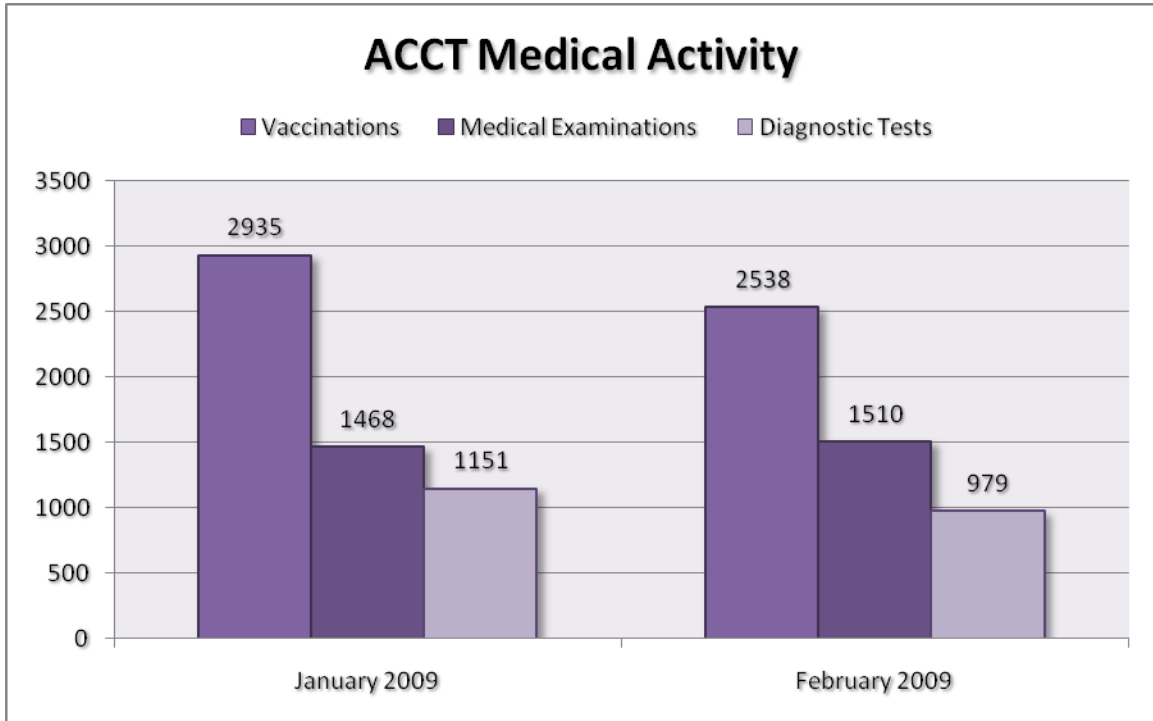

All animals in foster care receive Spay/Neuter surgeries prior to being placed in permanent homes.

Animals requiring medical care that cannot be administered at the ACCT facility are transferred to the PSPCA Veterinary Hospital to receive critical care.

2009 Monthly Statistics for ACCT Medical Services

Animals entering ACCT receive routine medical examinations that cover general health, diagnostic testing, intake procedures such as deworming and flea treatment, and vaccinations. Diagnostic tests for parvovirus, heartworm, FeLV and FIV are among the more common performed. All animals of an appropriate age and weight receive rabies vaccinations, as well as other core vaccinations such as FVRCP, DHLLP and Bordetella.
